

RIVELOPER

STARTUP PROGRAM

Companies like Amazon, Apple, Nike, and even the corner grocer, were once risky business ventures helmed by a few passionate people with a dream.

Anyone who has worked for (or founded!) a startup knows how difficult and unwieldy the process can be. We are here to take the pain (growing, and otherwise) out of starting up a business. Studies have shown that startups working with app development companies like us are up and running 4 times faster than if ran solo. The cost of our services more than pays for itself in the shorter road to a profitable model. Plus, our unique skill sets allow us to guide your business growth in a handful of other beneficial ways.

If you know about the financial cost of launching a successful startup then you know it is often not cheap. However, we offer agile startup contracts with a graduated payment structure that allows for scaled payments that increase along with your funding. Your success is our number one priority and we don't want any worry about development fees getting in the way.